

It's okay to call 9-1-1 when

- There has been a car accident and someone is hurt
- Someone ate or drank something that could be poisonous, like a household cleaner
- You need an ambulance for a person who is having a serious medical problem such as trouble breathing
- You see a house or other building on fire or smell smoke
- If you see someone hurting someone else

DO NOT CALL 911

- As a joke or prank
- To ask for information
- Just to see how it works
- When your pet is sick, injured or stuck in a tree
- To see if you have school

If you call 911 by accident, don't hang up the phone. Wait until we answer the phone then tell the person who answers it was a mistake.

Match the Emergency

Draw a line and connect the problem with who can help

If an emergency occurs, pick up the phone, dial the numbers 9-1-1. Tell the person who answers what the emergency is and answer all of the dispatcher's questions the best you can. It is okay to be afraid but remember that the dispatcher, just like firefighters, police officers, paramedics and EMT's are your friend and they are all there to help you. Do your part and know how to find the important information they need to get to where you are.

For the Parents

A helpful reminder for your child in an emergency is a sticker by the phone that has emergency information on it, such as your address, phone number, directions to your house and a close neighbor's information as well.
